

Aging & Disability For Professionals (New Blogsite)

Mass NWD Aging & Disability Resource Site

The Aging & Disability Resource Consortia (ADRC) blog page on the Mass Aging & Disability Resource site (formerly 800AGEInfo): <https://adrc.mass-aging-disability.org/>

This site contains information for Massachusetts professionals and providers who support older adults and people with disabilities.

The ADRC blog page is designed to serve as a central hub for announcements, reports, training materials, and shared documents, and to support bi-directional communication and coordination across partners and AGE Teams.

Staff should use the ADRC page to:

- ☐ Access the most current updates and resources in one place
- ☐ Locate training materials and key documents
- ☐ Stay informed through our primary communication platform about training, conferences, learning management opportunities, newsletters, etc. This will help reduce email back log.

The ADRC main page will house all posts. *Note: The Network News/Announcements category is regularly updated with current opportunities and announcements sourced through existing aging network affiliations.

For additional Aging & Disabilities updates and information; hover over the More For Professionals (located on the right side of the tile banner) and select an area of interest.

The Massachusetts ADRC model builds upon the existing infrastructure of two key agency networks: Aging Service Access Points (ASAP's)/ Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) & Independent Living Centers (ILC's).

ADRC staff provide objective, unbiased information, counseling & assistance to people with all levels of income. ADRC's empower individuals & Caregivers to make informed decisions about their long-term services & supports; and help people access public & private programs. ADRCs are an important part of the No Wrong Door \(NWD\) system model, meaning an individual only needs to call once to get the assistance they need, the agencies work together behind the scenes to get the individual to where they need to be.

There are 11 ADRCs in Massachusetts organized around the service areas of the 10 ILC's.

Together we can achieve more.
